QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS FROM THE MSBA COMMUNITIES

Q. When do medical assistance numbers change?

A. Numbers used to determine eligibility for medical assistance benefits and to determine allocation of income and assets between medical assistance recipients and community spouses change at different times during the year based on federal cost of living adjustments (COLA). Some numbers change January 1, some July 1, and utility allowances on October 1, in years when a COLA applies. In some years when inflation has been low, there has been no COLA. Changes in numbers usually become available a month or two prior to a change date.

Here are new numbers effective January 1, 2018, for applications submitted on or after that date:

Statewide Average Payment for Skilled Nursing Facilities (SAPSNF): $7,106

Community Spouse Asset Allowance (CSAA): $123,600

Personal Needs Allowance (PSA): $99

Community Spouse Minimum Maintenance Needs Allowance: $2,031 (updated last July 1).

Community Spouse Maximum Maintenance Needs Allowance: $3,090

SIS-EW Income Limit: $2,250

Homestead Equity Limit: $572,000

Remedial Care Allowance $188 (applies in assisted living facilities, updates January 1 and July 1).

A more complete list of numbers that change periodically can be found in the MN DHS Health Care Programs Eligibility Policy Manual (EPM), Appendix F, which can be found by searching for "MN DHS EPM," and scrolling to Appendix F in the Table of Contents. Income and asset limits for the various health care programs can be found by searching for "MN DHS Income and Asset Guidelines."
