JANUARY CLE

Cultural Conflict in Elder Care Facilities and the Need for Cultural Competency in Elder Law

Thursday, January 16, 2020 from 12:00 PM to 1:30 PM at Minnesota State Bar Association Minneapolis or remote access.

1.5 Elimination of Bias CLE credit applied for. Bring your own lunch.

While the demographics of facility staff fluctuates over time, one fact is becoming clear: elders are increasing cared for by staff who don't look or sound like them. Similarly, staff members are caring for elders with a culture different from their own. Unchecked, this can spiral into interpersonal conflict, turnover issues, and legal problems.

Boundaries, personal space, social expectations, and mores can complicate interactions between the elderly and their care staff. As elder law practitioners, it is our job to understand our clients' perspectives and the changing environment elders face. Just as cultural competency is playing a larger role in today's workplaces, it too should be recognized as a key competency in navigating elder and staff relations in elder care facilities.

This presentation will be focused on elder law attorneys, in-house counsel, and compliance experts to outline, and suggest strategies for dissipating, interpersonal conflict in elder care relationships. Further, this program will help attorneys themselves understand the complex web of social constructs impacting the elderly, and our role in managing those relationships. Among the panelists will be a nursing director, a licensed practical nurse, and a practicing elder law attorney. There will also be content on cultural competency for attorneys and those they supervise and how to develop it in our profession.

Participants are encouraged to bring their own lunch. Lunch will not be provided.

Panelists:

- Athena Hollins, MSBA Senior Director of Diversity and Foundations
- Natalie Morland, Director of Nursing for Presbyterian Homes and Services
- Evelyn Kamsin, Licensed practical nurse (LPN) with 21 years' experience
